

sealed ONE POUND PACKAGES.

W. P. WALTON.

When the news was flashed over the wires Tuesday that Treasurer James W. Tate was a defaulter and a fugitive, those who heard it could scarce believe their ears, much less that "Honest Dick Tate," as he was universally called, had done anything wrong, but confirmation almost as strong as Holy Writ left no hope that he would yet come out right, and those who had reposed the highest confidence in him were forced to surrender all preconceived ideas. For 20 years Dick Tate has been honored by the democracy with the office of Treasurer of Kentucky, until it had almost arrived at that point when no one would oppose him for it. The good old democratic doctrine of rotation in office was disregarded in his case and the result has been most disastrous. At the first of each year it has been the custom of the auditor to compare accounts with the treasurer and as usual Gen. Hewitt asked Mr. Tate to present his report. He put him off from time to time alleging that he was behind in his books. The auditor finally became suspicious and last week sent one of his expert accountants to help Mr. Tate out. This gentleman soon found that something was wrong, but Mr. Tate said that when he returned from Louisville he could explain everything satisfactorily. He was to do this last Friday, but he failed to appear and then Gen. Hewitt called in Gov. Buckner and Attorney General Hardin for a thorough examination of the treasurer's accounts. It was soon seen that there was a shortage of $200,000, possibly $300,000 and over and Gov. Buckner immediately suspended Tate and placed Gen. Hewitt and Secretary of State Adams in temporary charge of the office. The governor communicated the fact of the defalcation to the Legislature and his action in the premises, and a resolution to offer $5,000 for the arrest and return of Tate was immediately adopted. It is said that Tate has not been a beneficiary of the big steal, but was led blindly into the trouble by advancing small sums, at first to importunate friends and once into it, increasing the amounts and the number of the loans almost indefinitely.

Maudlin sentiment would in a measure relieve him of some of the responsibility of his crime, but it is a waste of sympathy to extend it to a man who has sinned as Tate has done. If ever a man had cause to keep square in the line of rectitude Tate has and his crime is therefore unpardonable and he should not for a moment be considered with even a semblance of forgiveness. By flying as soon as all hope of further concealment had passed to that haven of thieves and defaulters—Canada, he shows he is no better than the common herd of them and it is to be hoped that he will yet be brought back and made to do penance for his terrible crime—a crime against the people and a crime against that party which has honored him for 30 or more years with office, he having been Secretary of State and assistant secretary before his continuous terms as treasurer. Though his defalcation was exposed by a democratic administration and although his securities are fully able to make good the entire shortage, it will greatly injure the party in power, especially with those who do not think for themselves and the blow will be felt for years. The republicans are consequently jubilant and the Bradleys and the what nots are grinning with the utmost satisfaction as they utter their "I told you so's."

Impeachment proceedings will be at once instituted against Tate and then the governor by and with the consent of the Senate will appoint a treasurer till the August election. Tate's bondsmen are J. Stoddard Johnston, A. W. Marklin, Thomas J. Megibben, W. J. Chinn, Steve Black, Gen. Scott Brown, G. W. Robb and W. H. Barbee. Their combined fortunes are placed at a million dollars. They already urge that Gen. Hewitt's failure to force Tate to settle according to law relieves them of responsibility but that every cent stolen will be made good there is hardly a doubt.

His bank account shows that there is now nearly $600,000 to the credit of the State and the defalcation will not in any measure impair the credit of the Commonwealth.

The Supreme Court has just decided that the prohibition law in Iowa which went so far as to not only prohibit the manufacture and sale of liquor, wine, beer, etc., in that State, but to prohibit any one from importing it from another State, is unconstitutional. The decision was in a case against a railroad corporation for refusing to haul a cargo of liquor into the State. The court says that a State can regulate the traffic inside of her borders, but it is a violation both of the Constitution and the Interstate Commerce law for her to prohibit such traffic between States or individuals in those States.

It is believed that Gov. Buckner will appoint Judge S. G. Sharp, of Lexington, to succeed Tate as treasurer of Kentucky.

The Iowa republicans have declared for Senator Allison for president.

The death of Robert Gibson, which occurred at his home in Somerset Monday night, is almost in the nature of a calamity to his section. Public spirited, generous and true, he did more than any other one man for Somerset and Pulaski county, and his place cannot be filled. He was a self-made man, who by dint of untiring energy and fine business sagacity, rose from poverty to a very wealthy and honored one. Besides owning a controlling interest in the Somerset National Bank, he was the largest stockholder in the National Bank of Meridian, Miss., in addition to owning much valuable property in Somerset and elsewhere. A better or truer democrat never lived than Bob Gibson and the party loses a wheel-horse in his death, for he not only contributed largely of his means to aid it, but was ever ready to work for its success. In all the walks of life he was a noble example of the honorable man, who drew friends to him naturally, and his death will be sincerely regretted all over the State.

Gov. Buckner continues to veto objectionable acts passed by the legislature and is daily demonstrating the fact that he is one of the most clear-headed men of affairs as well as the most courageous that has ever held the office of governor of Kentucky. He sent in six vetoes in a bunch Monday, five of them being bills for relief and incorporation, which he thinks are against the public good. The sixth was the bill increasing the fees of jailers from 50 to 60 cents for detaining prisoners and as usual he shows some excellent reasons for the faith that is in him. He says that an army ration only costs 20 cents and that men do the most arduous service on it. The cost of feeding a prisoner cannot be over 25 cents and he can see no good reason for permitting a jailer to make more than 100 per cent. The bill would add greatly to the public expense and help prevent the reduction in taxes that should be made and which the legislature has promised.

According to a summary furnished the Courier-Journal, it is not at all probable that the Mills tariff bill will be passed by the present Congress, and not even by the House. There are only 142 democrats straight out for tariff reduction and it takes 163 to pass the bill. There are 168 democrats in the body, but it appears that they will not unite through the life of the party depended upon them. The republicans are always united and that is the secret of their strength.

The committee which met in Lexington Tuesday night decided that the Democratic Convention shall be held in that city on Wednesday, May 16, for the appointment of delegates to the National Convention at St. Louis. Delegates to the State convention will be chosen in the various counties on Saturday, May 5, the basis of representation being one delegate for 200 votes for Gov. Buckner, or a fraction thereof.

Old GRANNY BLAIR thought to make some capital by offering a bill that Confederate soldiers be given the preference in filling offices in certain cases, but he raised a big row instead. Confederate soldiers don't ask anybody any odds and are able to take care of themselves without begging for pensions or asking for office.

The Burlington road announces that it has all the engineers it wants and is running along as if no strike had ever occurred. It is also stated that the engineers are still firm and confident of ultimate victory, but somehow or other the two statements do not consist.

It is stated that the old Yeoman Company got $30,000 of the State's money from Tate and other as insolvent concerns smaller or greater amounts. Tate is also charged with dealing heavily in whisky and blowing a good deal of his trust funds into bucket shops.

The much-abused mother-in-law got in her work in Fleming county, Tuesday, by fatally shooting an erring son-in-law. Bully for the old gal! It would be better for the country if a few more of them would let loose on the trifling fellows who marry their daughters.

Nor in the least "scart" are we, Bro. Hall. McCreary can beat republican prohibition the devil and Tom Walker together. We only wished to remind the prohibitionists that the business of kicking against the pricks was a damned silly one.

Col. FRANK WOLFE has announced that he is a candidate for Congress in the 11th district. The only objection to the old war-horse is that he wants everybody pensioned, but he is a good man all the same, and can wipe the earth up with Finley.

The House Wednesday passed the bill creating the branch penitentiary at Eldysville a State reformatory, and fixing the salary of the Superintendent at $2,500 a year.

A democratic caucus was held in the State House at Frankfort Wednesday night, at which resolutions were passed looking to an examination of all state officers and institutions, and to a reduction of taxation.

The House has passed a bill which provides that in order that the law requiring a third conviction to carry with it a life sentence, that the offense for which the second conviction is had shall have been committed after the first conviction is had, and that the offense for which the third conviction is had shall have been committed after the second conviction.

Lawyer Davison, seeing the storm of indignation about to break over his head, has offered an amendment to his road law, reducing taxation to 6 cents and equalizing the number of days to be worked. This would do, its entire repeal will only suffice. A measure that takes the power of allowing claims from the county court and gives it to magistrates, will not strike a sensible man as the proper kind of legislation.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—Mrs. E. W. Jones and Miss Alice Hardin have received a portion of their new spring millinery.

—A hop given at the College Hall last Friday night by the young men of C. O. was well attended and much enjoyed.

—Mrs. Fannie Edmiston sold out her stock of millinery goods here and left this week for McKinney, where she will trim for some lady in the millinery business there.

—Rev. R. A. Hopper, of Lebanon, is conducting night services at the Christian church this week. It was he who conducted a successful protracted meeting here last fall. He is a cultured and forcible speaker and all who can possibly go to hear him ought to do so.

—Miss Nannie Bingham, of Cedar Creek, is visiting the Misses Hutchinson. Mrs. Polly Gresham has returned from Middleburg. Miss Maggie Davis is the guest of Miss Alice Ward this week. Mr. Feland Hatt, from Missouri, spent several days of last week with the home folks here. Mr. George Harris has gone to London and secured a position there.

It is either a strict license law or prohibition. Either the one or the other. The prohibition sentiment is strong and it is growing. He is a foolish man who either denies or closes his eyes to the fact. A license bill, general in its terms, strict in its provisions, and enforced by the authorities, is the one thing needed to break the force of the prohibition strength. It is the sale to minors, the sale to drunkards, and the sale to persons of known habits of intoxication which feeds the prohibition feeling. Take away the cause, and a proper license law will do it, and the effect must necessarily go. (Covington Commonwealth.)

Charles Voorhees, son of Senator Voorhees, is the Congressional delegate from Washington territory. Although he has no vote in the House he can introduce all the bills he chooses. He has presented one measure at least which shows that he has statesman's blood in his veins. It is a bill to regulate spelling by law, the amended orthography to be taught in all government schools. The measure makes war on the silent "a," as in "live," "breeze," etc., and advocates the adoption of "ake" for "ache," "anker" for "anchor," and other abbreviated forms for certain words. (New York World.)

Rev. William P. Evans, of Baltimore, does not object to pretty and stylish dressing. In a sermon the other day he said dress was primarily intended to serve the purpose of modesty, and secondarily to keep people warm, but the fact that nature covers the rose with moss and the tree with foliage shows that it is no sin to dress prettily.

In the days of the Marquis de Tofana arsenic was considered a most wonderful agent for secret poisoning. In these days of advanced chemistry it is considered the very worst. However administered it may be found and detected in the body, even years after burial, when all that is corruptible has corrupted. It is a mineral and stays there.

It is related of Gen. Grant that his conversation was remarkable for its purity. On one occasion a certain general entered his tent and said: "I have a good story to tell; are there any ladies about?" Grant replied at once: "No, but there gentlemen about." It is said the story was not told.

Lives of great men all remind us that if we cannot do more, we can tell our neighbors how Gant's chicken cholera cures restored our chickens, that were sick enough to die, to perfect health and that if it fails your money will be refunded by McRoberts & Stage.

"East Lynne" in humble life has just been enacted in Cherokee county, Ga., with all the leading characters complete. The "Sir Archibald" of the story is Mr. William Dimsdale, who met a pretty "Isabel Vane" in the person of Miss Ellen Grant. The couple were married and two children came to them. Then "Sir Francis Levison" appeared in the person of Andrew Harper, who led the wife from her allegiance, and they eloped. Word came back from North Carolina that, abandoned by her paramour, Mrs. Dimsdale sickened and died. Mr. Dimsdale's heart turned to a charming "Barbara Hare" in the neighborhood, named Miss Sarah Holcomb, whom he married six weeks ago. Last Friday night as Dimsdale and his new wife sat at home, with the two children sitting between them, the door suddenly opened and there stood the "Madam Vane" of the story, who was not dead, but who, retreating, crept up to the window to get one glance at her children. When she saw them, overcome with emotion, she could not resist the temptation to enter. The scene was dramatic indeed. Now Mr. Dimsdale is at a loss how to dispose temporarily, at least, of one of his wives.

There are more schemes in the world than a man could keep cases on with a patent adding machine. One of the latest is still another improvement on the "put-in-a-nickel-and-see-it-work" apparatus, and this one is to operate on the principle of "put in two nickels and take out your photograph." If a man tries to beat the machine by putting in only one nickel, a placard reading "Hans" or "Come Out" is flashed before his eyes, and if he still wants his photograph he must put in two more nickels or lose the one already deposited. The inventor thinks this device will sweep the country and make his fortune and perhaps it will.

Daniel Lambert was probably the fattest person that ever lived. He was born at Leicester in 1770 and died in 1808. He measured 9 feet 4 inches around the waist, and the calf of his leg was 37 inches in circumference. His weight was 730 pounds. A young man—Elihu Edwards—records that he was himself one of 11 young men who, in 1841, stood within a buttoned waistcoat that had once belonged to Lambert.

"George," asked the teacher of a Sunday-school class, "whom, above all others, shall you wish to see when you get to heaven?" With a face brightening up with anticipation, the little fellow shouted, "Gordiah!" (Boston Christian Register.)

Private trial at 2 years of age on ball and track to wagon 21.

$30 to Insure a Living Colt.

Dam Allen, 2½, 2½, sire of Wilton, 2½, and Albert Francis, 2½, sire of HARKAWAY'S HAMMILL ETOLIAN, grand dam Lady Griswold. Trial to wagon 21 by Flying Horse, the sire of Wilkins. Harkaway was sired by Harkaway's Hambleton, dam Lady Brown, dam of Pucknick and by Squire's American Star, grand dam of Nigger James, son of James, sire of American Eclipse.

Wilkins, a son of Wilton, died young and left few colts, but from his great speed, rich breeding and magnificent form, he gave abundant promise of a most brilliant career, both on the track and in the stud. Major Thomas Norton, of New York, wrote as to his record for Wilkins Harkaway: "He was a short time before his death an offer of $50,000, and the great driver, Carl Hays, says that he has always considered that in the death of Wilkins Harkaway the greatest of all the great sons of old Hambleton."

Harkaway's Hambleton, who sired both sire and dam of HARKAWAY, has sired 40 2½ performers and has sired 100 sons who have sired over 200 performers and has sired the dams of 50 performers with records of 2:30 and better, proving him the greatest trotting horse progenitor that has yet appeared, and ALICE, the dam of Harkaway, is one of his two greatest daughters. The only horse approaching Harkaway's Hambleton as a sire of producing dams is American Star, the sire of Lady Brown, the dam of Wilkins Harkaway. We know the breeding of HARKAWAY will bear the closest analysis and we have every confidence that he will produce speed and believe those patronizing him will realize as much profit from his produce as from the produce of any horse in the land, and his filly should make brood mares worthy the embraces of the bluest blood. Breeders are invited to call and examine for themselves the horse and his produce. Attention is called to the following extract:

OLNEY, Ill., Mar. 10, 1887.

"Harkaway never made what could be called a season in his life until you bought him. Our people were absolutely dead to the merits of the trotter. He served two years with three years old and got two colts, both owned here, and you could not buy either for $500. You can not buy a Harkaway youngster in or around Olney for less than $500 in 1890, out of common mares. For several years he ran wild in pasture, and cow-boys and farmers during the winter were trying to see whether I would go under or stay on top of the hill."

Rev. T. H. Beams, Pastor M. E. Church, Adams, Tenn., writes: "I think I should have been dead but for your Gennine M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine. I have sometimes had to substitute Zelin's stuff for your Medicine, but it didn't answer the purpose."

Dr. J. R. Graves, Editor 714 Capital, Memphis, Tenn., says: "I received a package of your Liver Medicine, and have used half of it. It works like a charm. I want no better Liver Regulator and certainly no more of Zelin's mixture."
